Psalm 81, arr. Alice Parker & Robert Shaw

Text and original music from the Ainsworth Psalter (1621)

To God our strength, showt joyfully: to Jacob's God showt triumphing.
Take up a psalm, and timbrel bring: the pleasant harp with psalterie.

Blow up the trumpet at newmoon: in set time at day of our feast.

For it to Israel is an heast [a command]: to Jacob's God due to be doon. [done]

If hearken unto me wilt thou, O Israel; if that in thee
a forreyn [foreign] God there shalt not bee: nor thou unto a strange God bow;

Jehovah, God of thee I am; which thee ascending up did guide from land of Egypt: open wide thy mouth and I will fyll [fill] the same.

I Sing the Mighty Power of God, by Isaac Watts; arr. Bookhout

I sing the mighty power of God that made the mountains rise,
That spread the flowing seas abroad and built the lofty skies.
I sing the wisdom that ordained the sun to rule the day.
The moon shines full at His command and all the stars obey.

There's not a plant or flower below, but makes Your glories known;
And clouds arise, and tempests blow by order from Your throne;
While all that borrows life from You is ever in Your care,
And everywhere that man can be Thou, God, art present there.

I sing the goodness of the Lord who filled the earth with food,
God formed the creatures with a word and then pronounced them good.
Lord how Your wonders are displayed wherever I turn my eye,
When I survey the ground I tread or gaze upon the sky!
